

Redx CEO scoops business leadership award

11 Oct 2013

Dr Neil Murray has been acknowledged as the Business Leader of the Year in the annual Liverpool Post Leaders Awards.

The event celebrated Liverpool city region's achievements and featured business leaders from a broad range of sectors including science and technology, creative industries, sport, the arts and public sector. The judges looked for strong and inspirational business leaders who have driven the region's economic recovery and growth.

The award was presented to Dr Murray by Professor Murray Dalziel, head of The University of Liverpool Business School. Other business leaders highly commended in the category included John Syvret, CEO of the Cammell Laird shipyard and Natalie Haywood, founder LEAF, the café chain.

The judges noted:

He is a passionate backer of Liverpool's ambitions to become a UK leader in biotechnology.
